THEME

In an effort to awaken a new loyalty and a new courage in the students of Robert E. Lee High School, and to provide them with an example to emulate in this time of trial; we have chosen for the theme of the 1942 BLUE and GRAY the life of General Robert Edward Lee: a true Southern gentleman, a scholar, and, above all, a good American.

Although General Lee led the forces of the South against the Union, he still retained in his heart the qualities of tolerance, justice, and self-reliance which the United States has always fostered. A gentleman worthy of the State of Virginia, of the South, and of the Nation; Lee was faithful to the virtues that are synonymous with the chivalry of the Confederacy. Since the time of Robert E. Lee, Jefferson Davis, and "Stonewall" Jackson, the youth of the South, imbued with the undying spirit of these men, has been the first to answer the call of National Defense and to fight valiantly for the ideals they have inherited.

Now again the South is called to the colors and again under the battle standards of their forefathers, the descendants of those who fell for the Stars and Bars will lead a united Nation to victory.

GO FORTH WITH COURAGE, SONS OF LEE!

DEDICATION

To MISS CLEVIE H. CULLUM, the 1942 BLUE and GRAY is respectfully dedicated. On the anniversary of her fifteenth year of service in our school, it is fitting that her tireless efforts be recognized by this distinction. Quiet, patient, and gentle, Miss Cullum's proficiency in mathematics and her facility of instruction have made her outstanding among our faculty. To those students who were fortunate enough to have been under her guidance, she has imparted not only a deeper appreciation of her subject; but also a keener insight into the solution of everyday problems. Miss Clevie H. Cullum's ability as a teacher and her Christian principles of character are not unlike those of another Southern educator—Robert E. Lee.

In memory of C. R. Jury
Member of the
Robert E. Lee High School Faculty, 1935-1941

ADMINISTRATION

THE 1912 BLUE AND GRAY

No family in America is more prominent in the history of the nation than the LEES OF VIRGINIA. From good English stock the Lees have reared sturdy, honest, fighting men and wise statesmen since the time of Thomas Lee the immigrant.

On his great estate, Stratford in Westmoreland County, Virginia this first Lee built his home, Stratford Hall, a mansion in harmony with its feudal surroundings.

In this, the Great House of the Lees, on January 18, 1807 there was born to Light-Horse Harry Lee and Anne Carter Lee a son, ROBERT EDWARD LEE.

In 1825 President Andrew Jackson appointed young Robert Lee to the United States Military Academy at West Point. Without having received a single demerit, Lee graduated with distinction four years later the second in his class. He was commissioned a lieutenant in the Engineering Corps, U.S.A.

The great Virginia families of Washington and Lee were united when on June 30, 1831, Lieutenant Lee married Mary Parke Custis, great step-granddaughter of General Washington. From his father-in-law Lee inherited the beautiful estate Arlington Heights overlooking the City of Washington across the Potomac.

The great-grandson of Lee, the last of the Lee family, was General Robert E. Lee, who led the Confederate Army during the Civil War.

As a consequence of his distinguished service in the Mexican War, Lee won the brevet rank of colonel and the high commendation of his commander, General Winfield Scott. General Scott officially reported that his own success was largely due to the skill, valor and undaunted courage of Robert E. Lee — the greatest military genius in America."

After three years of work in the Army Engineers, Lee was appointed in 1852 Superintendent of West Point. There he exercised his talents in his favorite vocation, teaching. Employing his theory of practical discipline, Colonel Lee noticeably raised the academic standards and improved the ESPRIT DE-CORPS of the institution. His faith in youth and the eminent justice and kindness with which he met youth's problems made him one of the greatest superintendents of West Point.

On June, 1859 while on furlough from his cavalry regiment in Texas Lee commanded the detachment of Union troops, which captured the renegade abolitionist, John Brown at Harper's Ferry

After this incident the differences of the North and South became more and more marked. Events rushed on. With the election of Lincoln the United States became a house divided. Like hundreds of other soldiers from the South Lee was forced to decide between his country and his state.

"I shall never bear arms against the Union but it may be necessary for me to carry a musket in defense of my native state Virginia in which case I shall not prove recreant to my duty." Lee, 1861

President Lincoln offered Colonel Lee the command of all the field armies of the United States. Realizing that this meant civil war Lee replied by proffering the resignation of his commission to the Secretary of War.

LEE GOES TO WAR

U. S. ENTRY INTO WAR AFFECTS LEE STUDENTS AND FACULTY

THE entry of the United States into the war has had many and varied effects on the lives of the students and faculty of Lee High School. Excited and aroused by the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, the war, latest news reports, etc., were the main topics of conversation for the first few days. On the day after Pearl Harbor, classes were virtually suspended while anxious student and faculty members tuned radios in to the President's historic message to Congress. Radios in the gymnasium, cafeteria, auditorium, study halls, and class rooms made it possible that everyone might witness the formal Declaration of War. A pin might have been heard to drop, so ghostly silent was the whole school when the "Star Spangled Banner" brought the special war broadcast to a close.

This excitement and interest, far from "war hysteria" was only to be expected in high school students. Gradually, as the novelty of experiencing a war for the first time in their lives wore away, Lee High School settled down to the grim task of helping win it. The average Lee student, confident that the United States would win the war, set about doing his part. From the opening of the school day at 8:30 A. M. to late at night, defense activities of one sort or another are taking place in Lee. The school "war effort" ranges from collection of scrap paper and the sale of defense stamps, to the nightly use of the building for the instruction of the teachers in first-aid.

Six Lee teachers are now in the armed forces; three in the Navy, one in the Marine Corps, and two in the Army. From even prior to the Pearl Harbor atrocity, the office force has been swamped with applications of former Lee students for acceptance in the Marine, Navy, Air Corps, Coast Guard, and other government services. These, and more of the contributions of Lee High School to the successful prosecution of the war, are to be found on following pages. — CONTINUED —

Students at Lee regularly purchase defense stamps from the main office. Completely filled stamp books are exchanged for bonds.

One week's paper collection piled on gym floor ready for salvage company. Thirty-six such loads have left Lee.

R.O.T.C. company proudly exhibits recently acquired rifles. Obsolete 1896 cavalry carbines.

DEFENSE STAMP SALES was one of the first defense activities participated in by the students and faculty of Lee High School. The sale of defense stamps was instituted at Lee at the opening of the term and continued to increase until the end of the school year. Students eagerly and conveniently made their regular purchases of defense stamps in the main office. Sales sometimes amounted to as high as $51 a day. Complete sellouts were regular if not routine. Secretaries, Mrs. Lightfoot and Mrs. Cliff made repeated hurried trips to downtown post offices for fresh supplies of stamps in order not to disappoint students, who were learning valuable lessons of thrift while they were helping support the war effort. Homeroom teachers placed "defense honor rolls" on blackboards, allowing students who purchased defense stamps to sign their names underneath. Under the impetus of this school-wide enthusiasm, Annual Staff members hastily wrote to Washington to obtain the "Minute-man" electrotypes for defense stamps and had advertisement elsewhere in this section. Altogether an estimated $2,500 has passed into government channels from the sale of defense stamps at Lee.

WASTEPAPER COLLECTION was another of Lee's early contributions to the preparedness effort. Early in the first semester of the present school year, the Junior Girls Club, under the direction of their sponsor, Miss Gertrude Broward, inaugurated the famed "paper drive." Both faculty and the student body cooperated to make this one of the most successful enterprises ever undertaken at Lee. Scrap paper collected from each homeroom was piled in the gym. Here the girls sorted it into piles according to grade. Salvage companies bid for purchase of the paper at prices ranging from $25 to $10 per hundred pounds. Magazines and newspapers bring the highest prices, with scrap such as writing material, cardboard, etc., bringing considerably less. Money obtained from the sale of wastepaper was donated to the Red Cross War Relief. By the close of school 25,000 pounds of paper had gone for this purpose.

R.O.T.C. GETS RIFLES. The Lee High School Cadet Corps was founded over a year ago at the outset of the American emergency program. The group, which at first included only Seniors, was fostered by the local members of the United States Army Reserve. The second semester of last year found the demand so great that Juniors and Sophomores be allowed to participate that the new unit had to be expanded until Lee boasted the largest and finest cadet battalion in the county. After an application for government recognition had been taken in red tape, mentioned instructors, Capt. D. W. Copeland and Lieut. David Germania secured obsolete U. S. Army Winchester's for drill manual of arms instruction use. At the close of school 1942, the Lee High School boys, between the ages of 16 and 18, were engaged in preliminary military training.

Lieutenant Felix Sharp, Lee graduate, and a former R.O.T.C. instructor, is now inside Japanese held Philippine territory.

Petty-Officer Sam I. Smith, Jr., Lee teacher and BLUE and GRAY sponsor, joined the Navy in November, 1941.

LIEUT. FELIX SHARP attended Lee High School from 1932 through 1935. He graduated from Citadel in 1940. Sharp returned to Lee in 1941 to serve on the faculty as R.O.T.C. instructor. Shortly after completion of his first term, he was called for duty in the U. S. Army on the basis of his commission as a reserve officer. Trained in artillery, his proficiency merited his assignment as commander of a heavy battery in the Philippine Islands. He was serving there at the time of the Japanese attack. It is believed that he is now inside captured territory.

SAM I. SMITH, Jr. came to Lee in September, 1940, as a study-hall director. He succeeded William F. Blois, Jr. as sponsor of the 1942 BLUE and GRAY. Smith enlisted in the Navy in November, 1941. He is now serving at the Jacksonville Naval Air Station. Due to his special qualifications, Smith expects to receive a commission as soon as seniority permits.

ENSIGN WILLIAM F. BLOIS, Jr., (not pictured) is another ex-member of Lee's faculty who has joined the armed service. A Lee graduate, Blois taught English in his high school alma mater from 1937-1941. He was sponsor of the 1941 BLUE and GRAY. William Blois was commissioned as an ensign in the U. S. Navy in July, 1941.

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT food supervisor, one of the executives of a home-making requirement for girls, now assumes more importance than ever before. Girls are taught to plan and to prepare balanced meals suitable to wartime economy. They learn to shop wisely to take advantage of proper fresh vegetables in season when prices are lowest, and how to select meats. Food and nutrition classes are interesting to the girls because they are practical.

WHAT DUVAL COUNTY SCHOOL TEACHERS AND PUPILS SHOULD DO DURING AN AIR RAID

OFFICIAL -- BY THE U. S. OFFICE OF CIVILIAN DEFENSE

EMERGENCY INSTRUCTIONS FOR SCHOOLS UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE!

1. What to Do When the Air Raid Warning Sounds.

Be sure to have 15 seconds each 4 seconds between South Jacksonville and Duval County School District fire alarm siren as the first alarm.

Sound the school fire alarm in a special way (short rings, etc.) Have each class leave its room in order as in fire drill. Conduct classes to the Air Raid Refuge.

DO NOT permit any pupils to leave the building.

DO NOT allow any pupils to return to classrooms until "All Clear" signal is given.

DO NOT SEND THE PUPILS HOME.

These protective measures will require organization, planning, training, and drill. They should be done at once.

2. Air Raid Drill.

The first and most important step is to get pupils to the Air Raid Refuge. Have them know the way in the building and the way out. Have them know the way to the Air Raid Refuge.

3. The Air Raid Refuge.

The first and most important step is to get pupils to the Air Raid Refuge. Have them know the way in the building and the way out. Have them know the way to the Air Raid Refuge.

A refuge is a place where pupils can go in case of an air raid. It should be a place where pupils can go in case of an air raid. It should be a place where pupils can go in case of an air raid.

Be sure the fire alarm is in proper working order. Be sure you have enough people—teachers or other pupils—who know how to use them. Appoint these people as fire guards. Have them take assigned posts when the Air Raid Drill sounds. Appoint a Chief Fire Guard.

who know how to use them. Appoint these people as fire guards. Have them take assigned posts when the Air Raid Drill sounds. Appoint a Chief Fire Guard.

If incendiaries hit the building, the fire guards should try to handle them, and put them out with water spray. If the fire gets out of control, the Chief Fire Guard should sound the fire alarm. All pupils should then be conducted from the building in an orderly fashion to shelter in nearby homes. Teachers must keep the pupils in control.

5. What to Organize.

Do these things right away—they are essential now.

a. Select the Air Raid Refuge—more than one if necessary. Be sure there is more than one exit.

b. Determine how the school alarm will be sounded for an air raid.

c. Assign a refuge space or refuge room for each class or classroom. Assign class leaders to conduct the drill—the same as for fire.

d. Publish all instructions, have them read over and over again to pupils. Have them posted on bulletin boards. Be sure every teacher and pupil understands them now.

These things should be done at once. We are suddenly aware of the danger. When you have completed all of these things, it is time to organize your long-range planning.

6. Here Are Some of the Steps to Take.

The Department of Education or other school authority under the direction of the local defense committee should plan and adopt a war program for the duration. Here are some of the steps to consider:

a. Appointment of school building wardens whose duties should be coordinated with their local zone or district Warden Service.

b. Special transmission of Air Raid Warnings from the control center to school buildings.

c. Fire Defense: Adequacy of present equipment, appointment of fire watchers or fire guards, and special training in combating incendiaries.

d. Protective Construction—Quick and simple measures to provide additional security.

(e) Study of alternate Air Raid Refuges for teachers and pupils in case of fire. Depending upon location, suitable buildings in the neighborhood may be available for use as Air Raid Refuge.

It is desirable to explore this possibility in order to effect dispersion where it can be done without undue exposure to the children.

7. What to Do About Training.

Start your training now. Don't wait for the final plan. Drill your pupils to behave as an Air Raid Alarm just as they do on a Fire Alarm. Hold drill every few days until they are thoroughly accustomed to it.

Keep up the morale of the pupils so that if a raid occurs you will have experience in keeping them occupied. Organize first aid training for selected groups. Organize fire defense training for the fire guards.

8. Are We in Danger?

The answer to that is—we don't intend to be caught napping anywhere or anytime. We are not going to say again—I can't happen here.

Don't rush around, don't worry, but ACT! These are simple precautions. Read them again. Think how you will apply them to your school. Then take the necessary action—today.

PARENTS! Read This!

If an air raid should come while your children are at school, see to your own safety. Stay home, go to your refuge room, stay away from windows.

Do not try to reach the school. You could accomplish no good. You could do a great deal of harm by such action.

In an Air Raid Refuge Chamber it is to stay off the street and under cover. On the street, there is the risk of falling shrapnel, racing cars, and fire apparatus. Stay indoors.

Do not try to telephone. The wires must be kept clear for the wardens, the police, and the fire department. You might prevent an urgent message from getting through.

This is hard advice. It's not easy to take. But it is for your best interest and for the welfare of your children.

W. DANIEL BOYD, Superintendent, Public Instruction, Duval County

Approved by Duval County Civilian Defense Council

THE PHYSICAL EDUCATION PROGRAM at Lee plays a vital role in the school's defense effort. Always an important and required part of school curriculum, physical education warrants more attention than ever before in the present crisis. Girls' and boys' gym classes (twice weekly), girls' archery classes and boys' extra-curricular athletics, such as football, basketball, track, etc., serve to keep Lee High School students physically fit. In gym classes girls play badminton, horse-shoes, softball, soccer, and tennis, while boys play tag football, basketball, track, and baseball in season. Coach Warren Kirkham and girls' physical education instructor, Miss Maria Jane Clemans, urge all students to take part in some sport. For the larger, sturdier boys, contact sports such as football and basketball are encouraged. Smaller, lighter boys may have an opportunity to take part in track, tennis, or swimming. Two gym periods per week for each student is a state requirement.

Gym courses and extra-curricular athletic programs such as track keep Lee students in physical trim

DEFENSE CLASSES. The Lee school building is in almost continuous use from 8:30 A. M. to 10 at night in defense activities of one sort or another. Civilian Defense meetings, civilian air-raid precautions, lectures in the auditorium, and the Civilian Air Patrol drill classes burn lights until late in the evenings. "Defense classes" are the most frequent and regular occupants of the building. For the past two years, since the beginning of the national emergency, these classes for the instruction of adult civilians in defense occupations have been held in local high schools. Courses in chemical engineering, radio and communications, aircraft construction and design, applied mathematics, airport layout and hangar construction, and modern languages are offered. Approximately 1,000 people have been fitted for defense positions in these classes.

Defense class for adult civilians giving instruction in aeronautical engineering and aerodynamics

FIRST-AID CLASSES. Lee High School faculty members have also been greatly affected by the entrance of the United States into the war. Besides participating in draft registrations and sugar rationing, teachers are now seriously engaged in preparing themselves for emergency first-aid duty. Three two-hour classes per week serve the entire faculty, with approximately twenty-five in each class. One additional class in advanced first-aid for instructors is presided over by Biology Department Head W. I. MacGowan. Misses Clemans and Holden, physical education instructors, together with Miss Erress Arant, conduct basic courses. Late working annual staff members, interrupting classes in order to take photographs were alarmed to find Fessa L. C. Harwell stretched at full length on the floor, sports on arms and legs, head bandaged, and with the entire class gathered 'round to witness the demonstration. Teachers take their first aid seriously. In the event that Lee should be the victim of an air-raid, they will be prepared to care for injured pupils.

Defense circular distributed to all Duval County school children and parents, also posted in every classroom and on school bulletin board.

Ann Taylor, student leader, has played leading roles in Senior Girls Club Jubilee, The Central School, and in the Senior Play "June Maid". Elected Best Looking girl in the J.C.C. Popularity Contest. She also modeled fashions for THE ARLINGTON.

Betty Watson, President of the Senior Girls Club, also member of Science and French Clubs, was active in the presentation of the Senior Girls Club Jubilee.

Grace Perry, a cheerleader for two years at Lee, is also Member of the H.C.C. Club, a member of the Staff of the BLUE and GRAY.

George Simon has won first place in two free violin competitions. A member of the Editorial Board of the BLUE and GRAY, he has ketches the signatures of teachers in THE ARLINGTON.

Outstanding 1912 Graduates

The 1912 graduating class of Robert F. Lee High School boasts many outstanding students with a varied talents and abilities as any class in the school's history. Selected by joint ballot of seniors and faculty, the group was originally planned to be composed of the ten most outstanding graduates, five girls and five boys. Due to the number of students who received large ballots, these pages now contain twelve selections, six girls and six boys.

Typical of all Lee graduating classes, the 1912 class contains scholars, musicians, artists, journalists, and athletes. Robert Ross, salutatorian, combined scholarly, athletic, and journalistic talents. Guy C. Leiford, popular with the students, is President of the Senior Class. He is also a member of the Editorial Board of the 1912 BLUE and GRAY. Mervin George Saxon, twice a first place winner in state cello competitions, is a gifted artist. He drew the caricatures of teachers elsewhere in THE ARLINGTON. Buck Lanier is a member of the Quill and Scroll journalistic society. He wrote sports for 1912 BLUE and GRAY and also for THE ARLINGTON.

These Lee graduates, typically American, are capable of making the contributions to society necessary to the maintenance of our democracy. Pictured on this and following pages are other outstanding 1912 Seniors.

Pictured here, as she appeared in the Senior Girls' Class Jubilee, singer Margaret Lane has performed on almost every stage presentation during her attendance at Lee. She plans to make music her career.

Betty McMurray, elected "Most Capable" girl in the J.G.C. Popularity Contest, is a member of the Glee Club, Dramatic Club, Science Club, and Red Cross Club. She is also on the Dean's Staff.

Leo Shave is popular with the students. He has been president of both the Junior Boys' Club and the Senior Lumber Club. Leo was also interlocutor of the S.F.C. Vodyal.

Robert Ryan is a star athlete, played on football, basketball and track teams, and is also Chaplain of the Senior Class.

Frances Glenn is the popular Vice-President of the Senior Class, Secretary of the Glee Club, and has also been President of the Sophomore and Junior Girls Clubs.

Versatile Salutatorian of the Senior Class, Robert Ross, is No. 1 man on the Lee tennis team and Senior Editor of the BLUE and GRAY.

Guy Gutchard, member of the Editorial Board of the BLUE and GRAY in charge of business, is also President of the Senior Class and Head Cheerleader.

Buck Lanier is Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senior Class. Journalistically inclined, he has written sports for Lee publications for the past two years, is a member of the Editorial Board of the BLUE and GRAY.

LEE STUDENTS ENJOY THE STAGE

HIGH school students have always been attracted to the theater. This is particularly true at Lee. The wide variety of amateur theatricals presented on the stage of the Lee High School auditorium attests the enthusiasm of Lee students for performing before audiences, both student body and parents. During the course of Lee's "theater season" everything from Gilbert and Sullivan operettas to "vodvils" are offered. There are few mediocre attempts. This is because student wholeheartedly "puck in". They paint their own scenery in many instances, design their own sets and may make their own costumes. There is no main contributor to the theater at Lee. The Dramatic Club, the Glee Club and the Senior Fellows' Club each make one presentation. Everyone at Lee has the opportunity to satisfy his inclination to act. This has been a particularly successful year for the "Lee theater".

The first dramatic presentation to take place on the Lee stage this year was the Christmas Pageant. Lee students always look forward to the annual Christmas program. This year's offering was unusually fine. The Bible Department, under the direction of Mrs. James E. Barbee, and the Glee Club combined to present "The Pageant of the Holy Grail". The body of the story was related by a narrator from the side of the stage, with scenes in the story enacted by members of the Bible classes. The Glee Club, standing in the balcony, furnished a background of religious music.

This year's Dramatic Club contribution was the Fifteenth Annual Senior Girls' Club Jubilee taking place in the Lee High School auditorium the night of December 14, 1941. The program consisted of a three-act play under the direction of Marie Spurlock Harrison entitled "The Charm School". The plot for a student cast the plot dealt with the inheritance of a stage girls school by a handsome young man, Rodney King. In attempting to break down stage and regulations as to clothes girls must wear make-up, etc. He draws the ill favor of starched old maid faculty members, and the admiration of an attractive senior girl, Mary Crabtree. The script calls for two kisses, called "churches" by students, a necessary part in any successful Lee play. Both "churches" and play as a whole pleased students immensely. The leads were Mary Crabtree, Rodney King, Gene Robinson and Edwin Elback.

The Senior Fellows' Club Vodvil is one of the most anxiously awaited and looked forward to of Lee's stage productions. Over fifty boys in sophomore, junior and senior classes participate. The 1942 offering, entitled "The Show of All Shows" was built around a defense theme, and was opened with a "black-out" scene. Scenery for vodvil acts represented Pearl Harbor, with smoking volcanoes in background. Nigger and meo cracked jokes with interlocator. And singers performed between times. Senior Fellows Club mascot, comely June Thornton, stepped through a volcano to be presented to the audience. The show closed with song, "Remember Pearl Harbor", sung by the entire cast in grand finale.

The Senior Play "June Mad", took place on the nights of May 22 and 23 too late for coverage in THE ARLINGTON

Christmas Pageant, "The Holy Grail", presented by Bible classes under the direction of Mrs. James Barbee. Cast includes approximately thirty Bible students and a hundred members of the Glee Club, who sang Christmas music from the balcony at intervals in the program.

Rodney King and Mary Virginia Crabtree "go into a clench" in the last act to bring show to a close. Students, highly pleased with long embrace, depart thoroughly satisfied.

Charlie Blum's interpretation of the Carmen Miranda dance had Volvyl audience in stitches. Phonograph supplied voice and music sound effects.

"Tangerine" was sung by Jack Lippincott. Repeated applause gave him four encores.

THE ONE-MAN THEATER

Shylock, servant of Shylock, The Merchant of Venice

Portia pleads the case of Bassanio The Merchant of Venice

Jack Rank, Shakespearean actor, was beyond a doubt, the most outstanding professional entertainer to appear on the Lee stage this year. Presenting condensed versions of Shakespeare comedies Rank plays all parts. Quick changes and conversations behind the scenes heard by the audience facilitated his carrying several roles. Students were particularly amused at his interpretation of female characters and repeatedly applauded Rank's strong voice. So enthusiastic were the students over Jack Rank's production of "The Merchant of Venice" that the BLUE and GRAY Staff sponsored a return engagement for the presentation of "The Taming of the Shrew". Both shows played to capacity crowds.

THE SORCERER

During the five years in which Willie Pearl Wilson has been head of the Music Department and director of the Glee Club operettas have come to be a tradition at Lee. Lee has witnessed five operettas—four of them have been Gilbert and Sullivan products, and one other modern, but of similar light variety.

The operetta this year was "The Sorcerer". The score and the story were particularly adaptable to the high school stage and cast. The plot was built around two lovers' attempt to fill their community with the love that brings happiness such as theirs. A sorcerer is consulted and a potion is concocted and administered to the townspeople. The lovers, Alexis and Anne, partake of the brew in order to assure their own eternal affection. As the drug takes effect everyone falls in love with the first person of the opposite sex he meets. Invariably absurd and unhappy pairs result. Alexis and Anne are even separated. The Sorcerer reveals that, in order to break the spell, someone must give up his life. After he sacrifices his own the townspeople are free to follow their own inclinations, and the lovers are reunited. Leads were played by Mary White and Billy Milton in the first performance, and by Halhe Kenner and Bobby Brock in the second. Jack Leet was particularly outstanding in the role of the Sorcerer.

Halhe Kenner and Bobby Brock played leads in second performance. Mary White and Billy Milton, the first

LEE SENIORS SELECT NEW FASHIONS AT PURCELLS

Our graduating Seniors select the clothes they like best for Lee High's first fashion show. Clothes suited to the more-stylish active tempo of the day—practical for the young high schooler or the college-bound.

Quite sensitive as to just what she should or should not wear, the Lee girl has wisely chosen clothes that fit within the average young budget—clothes that mother will like as well as the boy friend or clothes that will make her schoolmates just a wee little jealous.

Long-conscious of the particular needs of our style-weary youth, Purcell's have concentrated on Junior fashions with just the proper touch of sophisticated sophistication. Understanding sales personnel make shopping easier for those who may be "on their own" for the first time.

The Military Balls are two of the "big" school "events" of the year. Held near the close of each semester, they are the occasion of appointment of officers for coming term. In the Grand March pictured above, newly-commissioned officers parade with their sponsors.

SPORTS

SPORTS at Lee High School have enjoyed excellent success for the past three years. In all, while the class of '41 has not had a representative on the athletic field have had more than their share of glory.

Taking all contests into consideration, Lee has won a total of 105 and lost 45 for a better than .667 percentage. All of these wins have, of course, brought various championships and included as well in the past three years are one state championship, two Big Ten Championships, three Regional II Championships and eleven City Titles.

The athletic teams this year were also well above the average and were keptated by the fact that they all started slowly and finished very fast.

Our football team was no exception. It was a case of the proverbial "apple" and lost three of its first five games. However, it improved with each game and by the time that the season had rung down its curtain the boys had victories over Landon and Jackson and had won the City Title for the fifth successive year.

Without a doubt the Lee-Jackson game of '41 will long be remembered by every student who saw it. It was a team that trailing 0-6 with time running out fast, blast over three touchdowns and win going away. Horace Chase was the hero of this encounter as he broke away for two successful scoring runs of 77 and 65 yards and scored the first touchdown on a line back.

The other game worthy of note was with Landon in which the Generals scored a hard-earned 7-0 triumph.

The game was subject of controversy for several weeks thereafter as a ruling by the field judge on a complicated play was bitterly protested by the Landon players. Moving pictures of the game showed that the official interpretation of the play was right and that there was nothing tainted about the Generals' victory.

In the annual Kiawanis All-Star game the Blue and Gray warriors performed creditably and pleased the large crowd of spectators by their determined spirit.

After football had closed there was a few weeks of vacation but not far back for King Basketball was right around the corner. Having his practice every member of the Lee, Big Ten and Regional II Champions did spend Coach Kirkham and the team realized that there was a great deal of hard work ahead.

The basketball team like the football team started slowly but finished with a burst of speed. After having lost several of their first few games by one or two scores the Generals settled down and managed to defeat Hillborough of Tampa in their final game and clinch third place with the Big Ten. In the game with the Terrier Lee was behind all through the game but in the last seconds when they went down 27-14 Lee did it.

In the Regional II Tournament Lee lost a heart-breaking 20-19 game to Jackson in the semifinals. By going to the semifinals of this tournament the Generals were first three times to participate in the State Game. A fourth effort in Tampa.

J.G.C. Holds Popularity Contest

Each year at Lee the Junior Girls' Club sponsors a contest to select the most popular Lee students. First, a ballot is nominated by sale of votes to Junior Girls' Club. Each vote costs a nickel. Receipts go to help cover cost of J.G.C. activity space in BLUE and GRAY. Using a lot of votes in this manner the final choice is made in a "free election." The winners were as follows: "Best Looking" Ann Foster and Ben Carter; "Most Popular" Browne Carter and Guy Callahan; "Most Athletic" Lorraine May and Tommy Dixon; "Most Studious" Ross Helms and Robert Ross; "Cutest" Ann Johnson and Stubby Black; "Best All Around" Helen Parham and Dick O'Donnell; "Wanted" Mary Virginia Callahan and Dick Jones; "Most Capable" Betty McMurry and Jimmy Arnes; "Most Talented" Margaret Fink and Bobby Brock; "Best Groomed" Martha Sue Stewart and Janice Kerner.

The die was cast. Virginia had withdrawn from the Union, and Lee had entered the service of the Confederate States of America as military aide to President Jefferson Davis.

When the need for an experienced commander of the Virginia Army became apparent, Lee was given the post with the rank of general. Although recalled to Richmond to coordinate the Atlantic coast defenses during the winter of 1861-2, Lee assumed command of the Army of Northern Virginia on May 31, 1862.

He first demonstrated his genius for strategy and tactics in the Seven-Days' Battle in which he stopped McClellan's advance on Richmond. This was quickly followed by the crushing defeat of the Federal Army under Pope, the invasion of Maryland, and the bloody, but indecisive, Battle of Antietam.

The glory of the victory at Fredericksburg was dimmed, however, when at Chancellorsville, Lee lost his beloved friend and comrade in arms, "Stonewall" Jackson. It was a blow to the South and a personal blow to Lee, for he felt the absence of this God-fearing soldier during the long last months of the war.

ATHLETICS

---

The dreadful climax of the conflict was approaching when Lee invaded Pennsylvania to meet Meade at Gettysburg. Inevitably the tide of war turned against the poverty stricken South and for two years Lee's army, almost alone, carried on a brave but losing fight. In 1864 with Sherman at his back, General Lee and his Virginians began the titanic struggle with Grant. Then occurred the battles of the Wilderness, of Spottsylvania, Cold Harbor, and the long siege of Petersburg. With odds of one man to three Lee was finally forced to fall back.

It was a worn and tattered Confederate army that, on April 9, 1865, bivouacked at Appomattox. General Lee and General Grant met and in solemn dignity the gallant Army of Northern Virginia surrendered.

Seated on his faithful gray horse "Traveler", which had carried him since early in the war, Lee bade farewell to his devoted soldiers.

Remember, We are one country now. Dismiss from your minds all sectional feeling and bring up your children to be above all Americans.

SPORTS AT LEE

Couch Shearer, Head Coach Kirkham, Couch Piombo, Couch Lockett

THERE are four major sports at Lee in which a large percentage of the student body take an interest, either as a participant or as a fan. The four sports are football, basketball, baseball, and track. All of these sports are capably supervised by our competent coaching staff, consisting of Head Coach Kirkham, Assistant Coach Lockett, Coach Piombo, and Coach Shearer. In addition to these sports for boys there is the Girls' Athletic Association with other sporting activities for girls, ably supervised by Miss Clemans and Miss Holden.

The athletic program begins before the school year opens, when many young stalwarts come out three weeks in advance for the football team. The football season progresses rapidly with intra-state high school competition until the final big game on Thanksgiving Day with Jackson. This schedule calls for approximately ten weeks of intensified activity.

As the football season nears its climax, and sometimes beforehand, basketball practice begins. The basketball season lasts until about the middle of March when, simultaneously, baseball, track, and tennis get under way.

The track season opens with great enthusiasm and terminates with the State High School Track and Field Meet shortly before the close of school.

The G.A.A. is very active throughout the year and the girl participants derive untold pleasures from various sports in which they take part. Their annual program also includes many hikes, picnics, and, as a grand climax of the year, a house party at the beach.

Athletics at Lee, since the founding of the school, bear enviable records which can be attributed to the superior material at Lee and excellent coaching staff.

BASKETBALL—1942

SUMMARY OF BASKETBALL

At the beginning of the season the basketball outlook for the 1942 season was none too bright as seven lettermen from the 1941 Big Ten Championship and Regional Championship team had graduated. Only two lettermen were on hand for the initial practice and unless some hard work were done, Lee High's basketball fortunes were not to be as rosy as the past year.

Refusing to become disheartened by several bad early season losses, the Generals managed to finish the season with a record of eleven wins and seven losses. They tied with Hillsborough of Tampa for third place in the Big Ten and finished second in Duval County.

In the Regional Tournament they lost a heartbreaking 20-19 game to Jackson in the semifinals and in the quarterfinals of the State Class A Tournament, Plant High of Tampa coked out a slim 44-42 win over the inspired Generals.

Much can be said of the spirit and determination of this year's quintet, who, by hard work and much practice, moulded a team of which every student was justly proud.

After the war was over, Robert E. Lee returned to civilian life never to draw his sword again. It was with great satisfaction and with perfect sincerity that Lee accepted the presidency of Washington College at Lexington, Virginia. Having led the sons of the South in war, he was now to guide them in peace. There, with his family, the old scholar set about his new labors.

With quiet dignity, Lee conducted the affairs of the college. He took a great interest in the religious life of his 'boys' and tried to instill in them his simple philosophy of kindness and humility. He had a warm sympathy for and interest in each boy and each boy's ambition and work. In every one of his students he tried to implant that courtesy, that love of high endeavor, and that devotion to duty which ever distinguish the gentleman.

Out of respect for Robert E. Lee, the trustees after his death changed the name Washington College to Washington and Lee University.

Robert E. Lee died quietly in Lexington, Virginia, on October 12, 1870.

---

No monument in stone is needed to perpetuate the memory of Robert E. Lee his shrine is in the hearts of men.

Throughout his life, and under all conditions Lee commanded the love and respect of others. His Christian character as well as his military genius has spread his fame throughout the world.

In the deepest sense Robert E. Lee is still alive wherever there is a desire for education wherever men strive in unselfish service and wherever men feel with awe the presence of the Almighty there lives Robert E. Lee.
